I'm not a bot

If youre new here, welcome! You might have noticed a lot of our posts over the past month have been focused on tips and tricks around how to use Plenty of Fishs features in the best ways. Even though April has come to an end, we decided to cap off the month by backpedaling a little and walking you through the most important, but often overlooked, topic of all: our registration process. Im sure Im not alone in saying that signing up for a dating site or app can feel really daunting. Youre deciding to put there and suddenly you have to decide how to package up your personality and put it on the internet in a way that feels authentic, and that can be scary. Its totally valid if youre a bit overwhelmed, but were here to ease the tension. Creating a dating profile doesnt have to be scary, and it can actually be fun! To prove it, I signed up for Plenty of Fish and am going to give you a full breakdown of what to expect when it comes to our registration, and my best advice on how to give it your all. To start things off, you have to decide which platform you want to sign up on. POF is available on desktop web (thats your OG tower computer or your laptop) or you can download the app from the Google Play Store (for my Apple friends). Im an iPhone user, so any screenshots you see will be from the iOS app. The only thing I dont recommend you do is sign up on your phones web browser. Not to sound techy, but POF isnt optimized for mobile web, so youll likely come across some stuff that looks wonky if you go that route just download the app. POFs sign-up process has four sections dedicated to getting to know you that youll notice when you start making your profile: Your Account, Dating Preferences, About You, and Your Story. My first and best tip would be to carve yourself out some time to sign up without any distractions. Take the evening to chill with a glass of wine (or kombucha) and have some fun with it. Registration can take anywhere from 20 minutes to an hour, but the more time you give yourself, the better IMO. Finding the love of your life (or the love of your right now) is not to be rushed! When you start signing up, youll be hit with this lovely screen: Hit continue and youre on your way! Next up you have your basic account info username, name, email address, and password. Choosing your username can feel stressful but doesn't have to be, just pick whatever pops into your head that feels fitting! If youre stuck, you can always lean on your city and something youre into. I picked VancityFoodie because Im from Vancouver and I love food pretty self-explanatory. We only need your first name after that and you can decide whether you want that shown on your profile later in your settings. When youre deciding what email to use, make sure its one you know youll have access to for a long time! When picking a password, make sure you use a strong one that youre not using on any other sites. If youre not sure how to make a strong password, make sure you use a strong one that youre not using on any other sites. If youre not using on any other sites. If youre not using on any other sites. If youre not using on any other sites. password wallet. After that, youre just going through your classic identification questions. Youll be asked where youre located, your birthday, your gender (you can choose to personalize your choices or accept the default. Once you select an option, youre onto the next step! Now to the good stuff what youre looking for. The questions in this section are meant to show us who you see that time looking like, so be honest! Youll notice that first, you have to choose your dating preference when it comes to gender. While you can only choose one or the other as your main preference for now, you can always toggle back and forth later in your search settings (and know that our team is working to improve this experience going forward). Next, youll see this screen asking what your elooking for and what your intent is when it comes to dating: Keep it real here and be honest with yourself about what youre really after when it comes to dating, theres no right or wrong answer. This goes for the rest of these choices too. Youll be asked what you prefer when it comes to dating, you also know yourself better than we do, and everyone has their own dealbreakers. The rest of this section is dedicated to getting to know you more, so youll be asked a bunch of questions ranging everywhere from occupation, to physical appearance, to whether you have pets or want kids. Youll notice some of this info (like parents marital status) isnt displayed on your profile, and just helps our matching algorithms, and some info is listed as showing only on your extended profile this is a version of your profile available to upgraded members. Youve hit the end of this section when you get to the birth order question. Tap next and youre ready for the final step! Your Story Youve made it to the best part! This last section is where you get to let everyone know who you really are outside of a bunch of pre-determined options. Your story has five sub-sections that are all equally important, dont skimp on these bad boys! Like the prompt mentions below, your headline is your first opportunity to ask a question, share a fact, or just share something fun in your own words. When other members see your profile preview, this and your main photo will be the first things they see! You can think of your headline as a news article headline, whats fun and eye-catching and will intrigue someone to read more? You can think of your headline, whats fun and eye-catching and will intrigue someone to read more? You can think of your headline, whats fun and eye-catching and will intrigue someone to read more? You can think of your headline, whats fun and eye-catching and will intrigue someone to read more? You can think of your headline, whats fun and eye-catching and will be the first things they see! You can think of your headline, whats fun and eye-catching and will intrigue someone to read more? You can think of your headline, whats fun and eye-catching and will intrigue someone to read more? You can think of your headline, whats fun and eye-catching and will intrigue someone to read more? You can think of your headline, whats fun and eye-catching and will intrigue someone to read more? You can think of your headline, what is a support of the can be someones not eating a fancy carb-filled Italian dinner with me on a Sunday night, they aint the one! You want anyone reading your headline to go into your profile with a little nugget of information about who you are. This text box is your oyster! While looking at a blank box can make you sweat a little, think of it as an open opportunity to share anything you want about yourself. You have a long character limit, so you can go crazy if thats your jam, but I tried to keep it on the shorter side and recommend giving just enough info to, hopefully, catch someones interest. Think of your story like your own personal About the Author page, (which might be why I pretty much copied my bio below, oops). If you had to describe yourself to someone in a few lines, what would you say? Or, if youre stuck, ask your friends or family how they would describe you. You can always come back and edit this later, but Id definitely encourage you to give it some thought and get something written in there that will help you stand out. Don't be afraid to put your real personality out on the line, funny, serious, quirky, goofy, or otherwise. This is where you start offering up ways to connect with you!. Conversation starters let other members know some topics you care about, which, in turn, will give them a little more insight into whether or not you might be compatible. These can be as silly or serious as you want, it all depends on the conversations youre looking to have! I tried to choose a mix of questions that Id most want to know about someone if I was looking to form a relationship. In my written bio, I mentioned loving food, adventure, and dogs, so asking questions that related to those topics felt important. As someone who absolutely hates doing the dishes, asking about household chores is a silly little compatibility test for me, and as for the TV/movie question, if someone isnt going to rewatch Harry Potter and Schitts Creek with me regularly, the future does not look bright. Pick specific things you care the most about, and ask accordingly! The final written stage of your story is your list of interests, these can be anything under the sun! I chose a big range of interests to try and best showcase all sides of my personality, and I recommend you do the same! I know it can be tough to think of everything youre into on the spot, but your life (ie work, casual hobbies, entertainment, etc) and pick the things that stand out the most as important to you. Last but not least, its time for your photos. The photos on your dating profile can be one hell of a hot topic, so let me quickly break it down. Choose high-quality, unfiltered photos that showcase who you are, and youll likely see the most success. For your main photo, its always great to see a photo of you smiling, sans any filters getting in the way. For the rest of my photos, I chose one of me traveling, one dressed up (a controversial mirror selfie, I know, but if youre going to do it, do it well), one with me and my insane number of plants, and one with a puppy. These five photos show who I am pretty well, and thats the goal. Picking group photos, low-quality car selfies, or photos that youre not even in is not the way to go, and they probably wont get approved by our team anyways. This is your last chance to show off your best authentic self, so make it count! Once youve uploaded your photos, synced your cell number for verification (if you dont have a mobile #, dont worry, you can reach out to our support team), and agreed to our pledge, you are ready to roll! You successfully created your profile and its time to get out there and meet some amazing people. If any of your sign-up questions didnt get answered in this post, feel free to leave a comment below! from You may have noticed the Plenty of Fish app looks a little different these days perhaps a little better, brighter and bolder? Thats because weve updated the app (Android and iOS) to make your experience much easier and more enjoyable! Now, we know change can be hard at first, so thats why weve written this helpful post about the updates weve made and the best way to navigate the new Plenty of Fish app. Out With The Old and In With The Old and In With The Old and In With The Plenty of Fish app was starting to hint at our age. Once referred to as vintage, it was time we address your feedback and update the app to provide a fresh, and seamless experience., Youll notice immediately, the new explore tab on the Plenty of Fish app is more organized and provides big, bold images of other singles right away so you can see whos available to chat in your area without tapping in and out of each list. A huge change from seeing a full screen of ambiguous icons like before. You can also simply tap on each of the headings and be taken directly to the lists of other members. You can refine your search by tapping the Refine Search button right below the search by tapping the Refine Search button right below the search by tapping the Refine Search button right below the search by tapping the Refine Search by tapping the Refine Search by tapping the Refine Search button right below the search results. Refine Search by tapping the Refine Sea can like anyone from anywhere in the app. All you have to do is tap on their image and click the heart icon, or you can make the first move and send them a message right away. You will also find this heart icon in many of our lists, making it faster to express interest. When you like someone, they will be added to your My Likes section and the person you liked will be notified that you liked them. Check out Plenty of Fish Live! Scroll down the explore tab and youll find what Plenty of Fish Live! We rolled out this new feature in March to provide singles a way to connect and stay social while staying at home. Live! Is available to all global app users and its entirely free. If you havent tried Live! yet, we highly recommend you do. Every Thursday and Saturday evening at 7pm PST / 10pm EST until the end of May, were hosting speed dating hours where you can meet new singles and win prizes! You can find out more here. In the video, youll notice, you can keep scrolling and see what members have Viewed You, are Nearby, your Chemistry Matches, events, Who I Viewed, First Look, and Username Search? Each of these lists live underneath other lists and are available with a tap, just like before. You can access First Look and Username Search by tapping on the Events by tapping on the Search heading, and Events by tapping on the Matches by tapping on the Matches by tapping on the Search heading, and Events by tapping on the Matches by tapping on the Search heading, and Events by tapping on the Search heading, and Events by tapping on the Search heading, and Events by tapping on the Search heading. Explore Tab, Live! And Messages. Heres what each of these icons will do for you: Meet Me is where you can give another member a green check mark if you like them or an X if youre not feeling it. If you give another members a check mark if you like them or an X if youre not feeling it. If you give another members a check mark if you like them or an X if youre not feeling it. If you give another members a check mark if you like them or an X if youre not feeling it. each other by tapping Liked You and Its Mutual on the top of this screen. Explore Tab will take you back to the updated app experience. Live! will show you all the top streamers on Plenty of Fish Live! and you can dive into anyones streams and start watching and engaging. Messages will take you to your new messages received by other members. Still wondering where your profile is and how to edit it? Easy! Weve placed it on the top navigation bar with the profile icon to the left. Just simply tap the icon and you will be taken into your entire profile. Hot Tip: When you go into your profile, your about me looks like its been cut off abit, you can click the down arrow to see the additional paragraphs on your profile when youre in profile view. What is it missing? What makes it better? What makes it better? What makes it better? What makes it worse? We would love to hear specific feedback from you please leave your comment below this post, or reach out to us directly at . Today, were going to tell you everything you need to know about messages may not be receiving messages may not be receiving messages may not be receiving messages, and how to send a message that get replies. There are a number of different reasons why all the above may be happening to you and if they are, read on to find answers to frequently asked questions we receive. Everything you need to know about messages sending? Youve just finished crafting your message to someone youve been eyeing, but when you check your sent my messages sending? Youve just finished crafting your message to someone youve been eyeing, but when you check your sent my messages sending? Youve just finished crafting your message to someone youve been eyeing, but when you check your sent my messages sending? Youve just finished crafting your message to someone youve been eyeing, but when you check your sent my messages sending? Youve just finished crafting your message to someone youve been eyeing and it has not good to some one your message to some one your message to some one your message to some one your messages sending? Youve just finished crafting your messages sending? Youve just finished crafting your messages are not good to some one you will not good checklist of reasons why your messages may have not gone through to a user. Your messages have been blocked automatically by our system because a) It includes foul language, and paste method of messaging where all your messages are the same. Our system detects this behaviour as spam. To learn how to send great first messages, check out our how-to video here. c) Your message contains spam, links, or other website names. If youre promoting your goods/services, you will be removed from the platform. d) The user youre attempting to send your message to has specified that they prefer longer first messages vs. a short simple hey. We recommend writing a longer first message, and perhaps expanding on or asking a question about an interest you saw in their profile. e) You reached your maximum number of first message contacts. There is NO limit on how many messages you can send per day to the people youre already in contact with, so you can chat as much as you like. f) The recipient of your message has mail settings restricting you from contacting them. There may be restrictions you cannot receive messages, add favorites, or are having trouble logging in, please wait 48 hours and try again. h) Your age is outside of the +/- 14 year contact restrictions (or +9 year restrictions for those under 22.) The user youre attempting to contact has blocked you. Remember, if you wish to limit who is allowed to contact you on Plenty of Fish, you can do so by going to your Mail Settings under Edit Profile and selecting parameters. Why is a message missing from my inbox after Ive received a notification that I had one? Your messages may not be showing up in your inbox even though you got a notification of a new message because: The person who sent you the message has actually decided to delete their account before you were able to read the message they sent you. All messages are deleted after an account is closed. The message you received has expired. All message are auto-deleted by our system after 30 days and there is no way to retrieve those. The message you received has expired by our system after 30 days and there is no way to retrieve those. The message sare auto-deleted by our system after 30 days and there is no way to retrieve those. The message you received has expired. All messages are auto-deleted by our system after 30 days and there is no way to retrieve those. The message you received has expired. the message from your own inbox. Unfortunately once a message is deleted, you can not retrieve it again. Why arent I receiving messages or replies because Yes, there are plenty of singles to choose from on Plenty of Fish, but sometimes your messages can get lost in the crowd if its not quite as eye-catching as others. There are a number of tips you can utilize to help your messages get noticed. Check your spelling first and foremost! Bad grammar is a huge turn off to the majority of singles. In fact, we surveyed over 2,000 singles in the United States and they admitted that they drather bad sex than bad grammar! Get a friend to proofread your profile and see how you do. Avoid hey, how are you? or hey, how was your day? these types of messages arent unique, you havent even made it a personal address. Even adding a hey [insert username/real name] is better than no customization at all. If you dont know what to write, take a read through the persons profile to get an idea of what they might like to do in their spare time and ask them more questions about it. Perhaps you notice they enjoy the same things you do.60% of singles say if a message highlights a mutual interest or experience, they would most likely respond to it. Asking questions about someones interests and hobbies is a much better way to get to know someone! Your messages are overly sexual for a first introduction There is nothing worse than getting a first message that makes you feel uncomfortable. Girl, how are you so hot and single? Id love to take you out and see what fun things we get up to. Most singles dont want to hear on repeat why/how are you single? The reminder from a total stranger is a huge turnoff. That paired with an insincere compliment and sexual innuendo even worse. You may not realize it yet, but youre an oversharer Youre coming on too strong by stating what you like, dislike and where you see yourself in 5 years within your first message. This isnt an interview for your next job role, dating is supposed to be fun, so approach that first message with ease and confidence and perhaps pose a question to your match rather than taking up all the space to talk about yourself. Youre using a movie line or a cheesy pick up line Are you French, because Eiffel for you Oh oh no. or Are you a cake? Cause I want a piece of that YIKES. These types of messages are not going to work on most people. Think to yourself, would you actually walk up to someone at a bar with that line? Avoid cheesy pick up lines at all cost. Ask questions and be inquisitive in your opener!- If someone messages and asks you a question about yourself and your opener!- If someone messages and asks you a question about yourself and your opener. them questions too. Dont fall into the one-sided conversation territory! If you show genuine curiosity about someone elses life and experiences, youre well on your way to a two-way conversation. Maybe your writing A+ messages, but your profile is seriously lacking information: You havent taken the time to add any information about yourself. Either youve kept it totally blank, or youve filled it in with the words Ill fill this out later. When someone sees an unfinished profile, their automatic impression is that you arent as serious about dating because you didnt take the 10-20 minutes to fill out your profile in its entirety. Not sure what to write in your online dating profile? Heres how to write a great dating profile and stand out in a sea of fish. You have no photos or your photos arent showcasing your authentic self- If you profile has a hefty mix of bathroom selfies, gym selfies, or heavily edited/filtered photos, youre not maximizing this area of your profile. One in three singles have actually passed up messaging someone on a dating app because their photos were too heavily filtered/edited. Check out the best and the worst photos to use on your dating profile here. Most singles want to see a genuine smile and a variety of photos, not photos of you in sunglasses with a group of friends. Youre profile is full of checklists- I dont like this then listing off 10 different things youre not looking for in a partner is not the most attractive introduction. This information comes off as really quite negative for someone who has never met you before. Positivity can go a long way and rather than saying what you would enjoy doing most with a partner ie. travelling to an exotic destination to go hiking, staying at home binging your favorite Meryl Streep movies or learning how to cook together. Showcasing what makes you unique will help you stand out! There is someone for everyone out there and by following these simple and important messaging hacks, you will quickly learn what kinds of messages are better to send than others. If you have additional questions about messaging on dating sites, please feel free to ask in our comments section below! To help keep your Plenty of Fish account secure and ensure only real people are logging into an account from a new device. What is 2-Factor Authentication? 2FA is an extra layer of security used to make sure that people trying to gain access to an online account, like a Plenty of Fish account, are who they say they are. Instead of immediately gaining access to your Plenty of Fish account, are who they say they are. Instead of immediately gaining access to your Plenty of Fish account, are who they say they are. Instead of immediately gaining access to your Plenty of Fish account, are who they say they are. Instead of immediately gaining access to your Plenty of Fish account, are who they say they are. Instead of immediately gaining access to your Plenty of Fish account, are who they say they are. Instead of immediately gaining access to your Plenty of Fish account, are who they say they are. Instead of immediately gaining access to your Plenty of Fish account, are who they say they are. Instead of immediately gaining access to your Plenty of Fish account, are who they say they are. Instead of immediately gaining access to your Plenty of Fish account, are who they say they are also access to your Plenty of Fish account, are who they say they are also access to your Plenty of Fish account, are who they say they are also access to your Plenty of Fish account, are who they say they are also access to your Plenty of Fish account, are who they are also access to your Plenty of Fish account, are who they are also access to your Plenty of Fish account, are who they are also access to your Plenty of Fish account, are who they are also access to your Plenty of Fish access to your P This additional piece of information, is your mobile phone number. Once you provide your mobile number, we will send you an SMS text message with a 6 digit code that you will enter on Plenty of Fish and used to be verified! 2FA only applies to new devices, unless youre clearing your cookies, so you should only have to be verified once on each device you choose to login into Plenty of Fish with. What happens to your phone number after youve provided it to Plenty of Fish? We will only use this phone number for the 2-factor authentication. You will not receive any additional text messages or phone calls from Plenty of Fish. What happens if youre being required to verify your account each time you log into Plenty of Fish? If your account each time you log in, it may be due to accessing Plenty of Fish while using incognito mode on your account for only that one session and you will need to re-verify after clearing your cookies. If you have checked your cookies are enabled, you can click here to instructions on the most common browsers. If you have checked your cookies or using incognito mode, but still cannot permanently spare your device, please try a different browser (Chrome, Firefox, Microsoft Edge, etc) and let us know if that resolves the issue for you. Youll need to verify once on each browser on the device, but you should only need to verify once. What do you do if youre being asked to verify once on each browser on the device, but you should only need to verify once on each browser on the device, but you should only need to verify once. are receiving an error message? You will want to reach out to our customer care and let them know what browser youre using by going to, or, if youre being asked to verify on the mobile app, tell our customer care team whether youre using by going to or, or, if youre being asked to verify on the mobile app, tell our customer care team whether youre using by going to or, or, if youre being asked to verify on the mobile app, tell our customer care team whether youre using by going to or, or, if youre being asked to verify on the mobile app, tell our customer care team whether youre using by going to or, or, if youre being asked to verify on the mobile app, tell our customer care team whether youre using by going to or, or, if youre being asked to verify on the mobile app, tell our customer care team whether youre using by going to or, or, if your being asked to verify on the mobile app, tell our customer care team whether your being asked to verify on the mobile app, tell our customer care team whether your being asked to verify on the mobile app, tell our customer care team whether your being asked to verify on the mobile app, tell our customer care team whether your being asked to verify on the mobile app, tell our customer care team whether your being asked to verify on the mobile app. message, please let us know what you do see by attaching a screenshot. Your privacy is extremely important to us at Plenty of Fish and we implemented the 2-factor authentication to make our community a safe and secure space for our members to connect. If you have any more questions about 2FA, please feel free to comment below! If youre an upgraded member on POF, your ein luck! The ability to search by username is one of the great features we offer to our upgraded users. If you are using the free version of POF, you, unfortunately, will not be able to search using the free version of POF, you, unfortunately, will not be able to search using the free version of POF, you are using the potential version o included in an upgraded member, a username tab, or on the website as one of three search bar, the results will show as a list below. Now youll be able to find that account you were looking for no problem. Happy searching! Everyone dates differently, so were coming through with the options. Join nowUse Meet Me to scroll through profiles of potential matches. Swipe left if youre not into it and right if you want to get to know them a little better. If the love is mutual, well open up a chat so the banter can begin. If you need to take another look before you swipe, just tap their photo and check out their full profile. Sometimes a profile just blows you away. Dont let them pass you by, hit the Super Like button for an extra boost and get the convo started. Get the POF mobile apps If youre an avid Plenty of Fish member, youve likely noticed as things move and change on our app and site, and naturally youve got some questions! We always do our best to keep our Help Centre updated with the latest, but we know that sometimes you just want to see everything in one place. We hear you! Weve collected some of our FAQs and have turned to the experts, the team here at Plenty of Fish, to give you the answers you need. Q: Im in need of help for an issue! How do I contact your support team? A: Our Customer Success Team handles support requests through email, and you can reach them at ! Q: Is there a way to filter by relationship intent so Im matched with people who I know are looking for what Im looking for? A: Our matching feature doesnt offer any filtering, but you can filter by relationship intent using our Search feature! You can find lots of intent options from casual to serious by hitting Refine Search under the Search tab. Q: I don't have a mobile number but I want to create an account, is this possible? A: It sure is! We totally get that not everyone has a cell to use for verification, so once vouve created an account just reach out to our support team at and theyll help get you verified. Q: Can I adjust what types of emails I get from POF? I feel Im gettings. Youll have to hop on a desktop computer to do this though, you wont find these settings on the app at the moment. Q: My photos arent getting approved, but I see photos on other profiles that arent following guidelines and show off your beautiful authentic selves! However, we totally get that it can be frustrating to have your own picture removed only to see someone else with a similar one. Our moderation is constantly being refined, so if you do catch a photo that doesnt follow our guidelines, the best thing you can do is report the profile to us so we can catch the photo as soon as possible. Q: Ive emailed support about an issue, why is it taking so long for someone to get back to me? A: We wish we could always give you help right when you need it, but our support team is made up of real humans that only have so many hands to type with. We aim to get back to you in 24 hours, but if youre looking for help ASAP, you can also check out our Help Centre that has a ton of tips and answers to FAQs and might help you answer your question faster. Q: Are all photo filters banned? What if its super minimal? A: They are! We want everyone who uses Plenty of Fish to feel comfortable being their authentic self, and we promise you dont need any filters, even minimal ones, to look your best. Q: When I hide my profile, can I still get messages from members? A: Yes and no! The main purpose around having the Hide Profile option is to give you the ability to take a little break from any new connections or explore a current one. Any members that youve chatted with before or interacted with (read: a profile view or like) or vice versa will still be able to see your profile and send you messages, but youll be hidden from anyone who you havent connected with before, or who hasnt connected with you. Q: Will I still appear anywhere if I hide my profile? A: Once youve hidden your profile, you wont appear anywhere on the app or site including our MeetMe feature, recommendations lists, and search results, but keep in mind the above answer, that your profile can still be viewed by anyone youve interacted with before. Q: When I block someone, will they know Ive blocked them? A: Nope! Blocking is totally anonymous, and they wont be able to message you again! You can find more info on how to block/unblock here. Q: Someone used my phone number to create what looks like a POF account, what can I do? A: There could be one of two things happening here. If you've been sent a text that has a verification code for a Plenty of Fish account, what can I do? A: There could be one of two things happening here. If you've been sent a text that has a verification code for a Plenty of Fish account, what can I do? A: There could be one of two things happening here. If you've been sent a text that has a verification code for a Plenty of Fish account, what can I do? A: There could be one of two things happening here. to register with your number. If, for any reason, youve given someone the verification code you were texted, the best next step is to reach out to our support team over email with your phone number and theyll be able to look into it. Q: I want to report someone for a message they sent but theres no option to report by message, what should I do? A: Were in the midst of updating the way our reporting form looks, so youll see a more specific way to report someones messages very soon, but if someones sent you something that doesnt follow our guidelines, we encourage you to report someone, will they know its me? As Absolutely not! All reports are 100% anonymous. Q: Before POF changed, I was able to see Who Viewed Me but now its behind a paywall, why cant I see who Viewed Me anymore? A: We want to encourage and incentivize our members to form mutual interest before sending that first message, so weve made this an upgraded feature. To make up for this change, weve worked hard to improve the matches you get through our MeetMe feature and lists like Recommended and Matches. Q: Im an upgraded member but Im not sure where Viewed Me is now, has it been moved? A: It has! Weve grouped members who have viewed your profile or Liked you under a new tab called Interested in Me. Our team made this update as part of a bigger set of changes to try and make the experience on our app as simple and streamlined as possible. Q: I dont like opening my app and having MeetMe pop up right away, is there a way to default to go straight to my message inbox instead? A: Not at the moment. Weve tried to make it easier to jump into the relevant areas of the app through the navigation icons on the bottom, but youll still need to tap the messages icon from there. If youve got the app installed on a compatible iOS device though, you can touch and hold the app icon on your inbox! Q: Why cant I unlike someone after Ive liked them? A: The short answer is that we, unfortunately, dont have this available as an option. Were looking at the possibility of adding an unmatch feature that would let you clear a match and any related conversation with another member. Q: I find that my search results are often different from what Ive selected, why am I being shown people outside of my age/distance requirements? A: Our search feature has a minimum amount of results that it looks for before it auto-expands. If that minimum isnt hit, it will double whatever youve entered which is why you might see this happen. Were working on how to make this a smoother process as soon as we can. Stay tuned! Q: I dont understand what the Live! feature is, can you explain what its about? A: Live! is your very own online community where you can share thoughts, talents, skills, and conversation with like-minded people all through video chat! Its a space for everyone, single or otherwise, to connect in a bunch of different ways and you can really choose your own adventure. Q: Can I filter the streams I see in Live!? For example, if I want to see streams from around the world, is that possible? A: Yep! You can filter the streams you see by gender, country, and language. If you head into the Live! feature, on the Trending page youll see a big pink Go Live! button in the bottom middle of the screen with an icon to the left and an icon to the left and an icon to the right. Hit the right icon to filter the streamers (the most active streamers with the biggest audiences). If you want to learn more about how you can become a top streamer, check out this video. Q: How long does it take to get a Top Badge on Live? A: The longer you stream, the higher the reward! We like to celebrate our best streamers who have reached big milestones on the platform like 5M diamonds, 5K favorites, and 500+ viewership on their streams. Were always looking for content that our livestreaming community finds engaging and entertaining. Q: Can Top Badges nominate other streamers to get a Top Badge too? A: Absolutely, we love building up the community as much as possible, but remember, in order to get a Top Badge, you have to have accomplished those milestones we mentioned above. Q: What is a Live! battle? Why do people battle? A: A battle is where two streamers will face off in the ultimate showdown to see who can generate the most hype. The winner of the battle is dictated by the streamer who gets the most gifts from their own community! Q: How do I become a VIP on Live!? Whats the difference between VIP and Top Badge? A: Becoming a VIP isnt based on your streaming or how many viewers you have, but based on how many Live Credits (LC) you buy. If you buy more than 250K LC in a month, youll get the VIP badge. Q: Im interested in using Live! for dating, but do people actually form relationships on there? A: They sure do! Weve actually had quite a few couples reach out to us letting us know they met using Live! and it was a super cool experience for them stay tuned for an upcoming blog on one of these awesome couples! If youre watching someones stream and you feel like you might hit it off, put yourself out there and send some comments letting them know! Dont forget, you can also use our NextDateand Blind Date features on Live! to meet other singles over video. If you have a product question that didnt get answered here, feel free to leave us a comment!

What happens in chapter 9 of hunger games. What happens in chapter 1 and 2 of the hunger games. What happens in chapter 3 of hunger games. What happens after hunger games mocking part 2. What happens in chapter 2 of the hunger games book 1.