Criticism of Gadgil Report

- The major criticism faced by Gadgil Committee report was that it was more environment-friendly and not in tune with the ground realities.
- Recommendations were sited as impractical to implement.
- Gadgil report has asked for complete eco-sensitive cover for Western Ghats which hamper different states on energy and development fronts.
- There was criticism against the constitution of a new body called WGEA. States insist that protection can be given under existing laws.
- Gadgil report doesn't give solution for revenue losses due to implementation of its recommendations.
- Gadgil report is against dams in Western Ghats, which is a crucial blow on the ailing power sector. Considering the growing energy needs of India, critics argue that this recommendation cannot be taken.

Our code of editorial values SEARCHED FOR:Gadgil and the report prepared by the Western Ghats Ecology Expert Panel (WGEEP) headed by him are back in news after over two dozen people lost their lives in landslides and flash floods occurred in the past few days in the hilly regions of Western Ghats in central Kerala districts of Kottayam and Idukki.19 Oct, 2021, 11.02 AM ISTIt is time to seriously consider the recommendations of the Gadgil committee report. Assess these in light of the repeated instance of extreme events and the impacts of climate change, and implement a regulatory regime that will balance the needs of economic activity and growth and ecological protection.18 Oct, 2021, 11.30 PM ISTThe former Union Environment Minister said that the report has continuing relevance for the entire Western Ghats extending over six states but sadly it has been mothballed.17 Oct, 2021, 10.08 PM ISTMoreover, this doubling project will only be marginally enhancing the capacity of the most inefficient section of the railway network passing through the ecologically sensitive and bio-diversity rich tiger reserve, two wildlife sanctuaries and a national park." the committee said in its 110page report.27 Apr, 2021, 10.33 AM ISTThe report is unscientific and there are plenty of ambiguities which makes it difficult to implement. The report is opposed everywhere right from the gram panchayat level to an assembly segment," Revenue Minister R Ashoka said.29 Dec, 2020, 03.02 PM IST07 May, 2019, 09.29 AM ISTIt said that a glaring deficiency which emerges from the EIA report is its failure to notice the existence of Ecologically Sensitive Zones of Western Ghats within a buffer distance of 10 km of the project site.29 Mar, 2019, 07.24 PM ISEvery time the environment ministry notified the ESA draft, it asked the Western Ghats states to submit their views or objections.27 Aug, 2018, 10.57 AM ISTBoth UDF & LDF govts had junked a report that classified the flooded areas as ecologically-sensitive zones20 Aug, 2018, 05.55 PM ISTNoted ecologist Madhav Gadgil has warned Goa may face the same fate as the flood-battered Kerala if it does not take precautions on the environmental front. Like in some other states, Goa, too, is witnessing activities which are driven by greed for unlimited profits, said Gadgil, who headed a committee that authored a study on the Western Ghats a few years ago.19 Aug, 2018, 02.56 PM ISTHe said thereason for not taking any environmental precaution (in general) is purely greed for unlimited profits.19 Aug, 2018, 02.26 PM ISTEnvironment Minister Prakash Javadekar on Thursday said a meeting of Western Ghat-range states would be held by this month to take a final call on demarcation of ecologically sensitive areas in the hills.04 Feb, 2016, 10.18 AM ISTAll existing mines will be phased out in 5 years of the final notification or on the expiry of mining lease. It has also banned new thermal projects.14 Sep, 2015, 11.13 AM ISTThe Center on Monday assured MPs from Western Ghats region that the final notification on earmarking 'ecologically sensitive area' (ESA) will incorporate suggestions of all the six states and the 'ho go' area will not in any case affect the basic economic activities, including agriculture and plantation, of the people living in the earmarked zone.03 Aug, 2015, 07.42 PM ISTThe erstwhile Digambar Kamat-led government had roped in Gadgil to assess the impact on environment due to mining activity in the coastal state.27 Aug, 2014, 12.00 AM ISTSuccumbing to the pressure of Kerala government's demand, the Centre on Tuesday announced altering the boundaries of Ecological Sensitive Area (ESA) as desired by the state.04 Mar, 2014, 11.26 PM ISTEnvironment minister M Veerappa Moily on Wednesday refused to give any timeline on the settlement of issues regarding the implementation of an expert committee report on Western Ghats.19 Feb, 2014, 10.15 PM ISTEnvironment Min will consider views of Chief Ministers of all states in Western Ghats region before issuing draft notification for declaring mountain chain.06 Feb, 2014, 05.10 PM ISTUnion minister Jairam Ramesh on Sunday said that he still feels that the Madhav Gadgil report on the Western Ghats was the "roadmap" for conservation of the ecologically-sensitive hills.30 Dec, 2013, 02.10 AM ISTBuilding and construction projects of 20,000 sq meters area and above and township and area development projects with an area of 50 hectares and above or with built up area of 1,50,000 sq meters and above will be prohibited in these areas.15 Nov, 2013, 03.58 AM IST"The natural forest cover in the region has dwindled to 7%. Most rivers have dried up and waters are contaminated. Hills are disappearing due to quarrying," he said.28 Oct, 2013, 11.19 AM ISTOnly a third of the 1.64-lakh-sq-km Western Ghats is to be declared as an Ecologically Sensitive Area (ESA).19 Oct, 2013, 02.47 AM ISTEnvironment Ministry has given approval to a report on Western Ghats prepared by K Kasturirangan-led panel which has recommended prohibition on development activities in 60,000 sq km ecologically sensitive area spread over six states.18 Oct, 2013, 09.50 PM ISTThe Union environment ministry is expected to approve the K Kasturirangan panel report on Western Ghats.12 Jun, 2013, 05.18 AM ISTIt has suggested that the area spanning 1,500 kilometres across the western peninsular region be notified as "Ecologically Sensitive Area".18 Apr, 2013, 11.31 AM ISTKozhikode/ The Kasturirangan committee appointed by the Centre to review the Western Ghats Expert Ecology Panel (WGEEP) report held a sitting at the district collectorate at Kalpetta in Wayanad on Monday.09 Apr, 2013, 05.24 AM ISTThe Union ministry of environment and forests (MoEF) has set up a committee under the chairmanship of Planning Commission member K Kasturirangan to review the controversial Western Ghats ecology experts panel report.21 Aug, 2012, 03.43 PM ISTThe government is going to decide on the controversial Western Ghats ecology expert panel report next week, a panel of the Union environment ministry has recommended that minini and industrial growth be banned in more than 80 revenue blocks and strictly regulated in another 75-odd revenue blocks or talukas.08 Mar, 2012, 02:59 AM ISTBACK TO TOP Indian environmental research commission Western Ghats Ecology Expert PanelGadgil Commission ReportAbbreviationWGEEPSuccessorKasturirangan CommissionLocationEnvironmental ScienceRegion served Western GhatsChairmanMadhav Gadgil The Western Ghats Ecology Expert Panel (WGEEP), also known as the Gadgil Commission after its chairman Madhav Gadgil, was an environmental research commission appointed by the Ministry of Environment and Forests of India. The commission submitted the report to the Government of India on 31 August 2011. The Expert Panel approached the project through a set of tasks, such as: Compilation of readily available information about Western Ghats Development of Geo-spatial database based on environmental sensitivity, and Consultation with Government bodies and Civil society groups.[1] Certain sections of people in Kerala, strongly protested the implementation of the report since most of the farmers obtained their livelihood from the hilly regions in Wayanad.[2][3] During the 20th century, a very large number of people had migrated from southern Kerala and acquired forest land in Wayanad and other areas. The Gadgil Commission report was criticised for being excessively environment-friendly and not in tune with the ground realities.[4] Ecology Expert Panel Chairman Professor Madhav Gadgil, Ph.D (Harvard University), Former HOD, Centre for Ecological Sciences, Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore.[5] Members Dr. V.S. Vijayan, Ph.D. (University of Mumbai), Founder Director, Salim Ali Centre for Ornithology and Natural History, Coimbatore; Former Chairman, the Kerala State Biodiversity Board. Navalgund, Director, Space Application Centre (SAC) Dr. G.V. Subrahmanyam, Advisor (RE), Ministry of Environment & Forests, Government of India, New Delhi[1] Major recommendations of Western Ghats Ecology Expert Panel (WGEEP) The panel recommended a National-level authority, Western Ghats Ecology Authority (WGEA). The Gadgil Commission report was criticised for being too environment-friendly. The report was considered by UNESCO, which added the 39 serial sites of the Western Ghats on the World Heritage List.[6] Kasturirangan Report The Kasturirangan Commission has sought to balance the two concerns of development and environment protection, by watering down the environmental regulation regime proposed by the Western Ghats Ecology Experts Panel's Gadgil report in 2012. The Kasturirangan report seeks to bring just 37% of the Western Ghats under the Ecologically Sensitive Area (ESA) zones — down from the 64% suggested by the Gadgil report.[7] Dr. V.S. Vijayan, member of the Western Ghats Ecology Expert Panel (WGEEP) said recommendations of the Kasturirangan report are undemocratic and anti-environmental.[4][8] A crucial report on Western Ghats prepared by K. Kasturirangan-led high-level working group (HLWG) has recommended prohibition on development activities in 60,000 km2 ecologically sensitive area spread over Gujarat, Karnataka, Maharashtra, Goa, Kerala and Tamil Nadu.[citation needed] The 10-member panel, constituted to examine the Western Ghats ecology expert panel report prepared under the leadership of environmentalist Madhav Gadgil, has also moved away from the suggestions of the Gadgil panel.[citation needed] The Gadgil panel had recommended a blanket approach consisting of guidelines for sector-wise activities, which could be permitted in the ecologically sensitive zones.[citation needed] Livelihood options "Environmentally sound development cannot preclude livelihood and economic options for this region... The answer (to the question of how to manage and conserve the Ghats) will not lie in removing these economic options, but in providing better incentives to move them towards greener and more sustainable practices," the HLWG report says.[citation needed] The panel submitted the report to Environment Minister Jayanthi Natarajan.[citation needed] Prohibitory regime Roughly 37 per cent of the total area defined as the boundary of the Western Ghats is ecologically sensitive. Over this area of some 60,000 km2, spread over the States of Gujarat, Maharashtra, Goa, Karnataka, Kerala and Tamil Nadu, the working group has recommended a prohibitory regime on those activities with maximum interventionist and destructive impact on the environment, the panel says in its report. The Working Group was constituted to advise the government on the recommendations of an earlier report of ecologist Madhav Gadgil-led "Western Ghats Ecology Expert Panel" (WGEEP). The WGEEP had recommended 64% of Western Ghats to be declared as an ecologically sensitive area. It had suggested three levels of categorization where regulatory measures for protection would be imposed and had recommended the establishment of the Western Ghats Ecology Authority for management of the Ghats. The 10-member Working Group, headed by Planning Commission member Kasturirangan, has environmental experts and other professionals as its members. "The Western Ghats is a biological treasure trove that is endangered, and it needs to be protected and regenerated, indeed celebrated for its enormous wealth of endemic species and natural beauty", the report says. Natarajan said that the recommendations would be looked into urgently so that action can be taken to address these challenges. Kasturirangan said, "The message of this report is serious, alarming and urgent. It is imperative that we protect, manage and regenerate the lands now remaining in the Western Ghats as biologically rich, diverse, natural landscapes".
