How to install icon pack on nova launcher.

Android offers one of the most customous impressions on any smartphone. This gives you freedom to personalize everything, from the launcher to widgets and everything that is used between simple applications. Applications icons are one of the most common elements that you can configure on your Android smartphone: an element that significantly improves the appearance of the home screen of your device. By default, each creator has its own style icon (size, color, shape) for its skin. If you are a pixel user, you will get the simplest badges. However, if you do not like the appearance of the icons on your Android device, we have compiled a list of the best Android icon packages that you can use in 2021 to configure your Android experience. 1. Contour icons. Although this style of the icon is not entirely minimal, it seems very clean and distinct, especially on dark themes or background images. It is also partly associated with a light color palette, which gives the icons a distinct appearance and releases them. Outline ICONS offers you a collection of more than 7900 icons for icons that most applications that you install on your device should cover you. However, if there is an application whose icon does not correspond to the style of the topic, it provides a masking of the icon that mixes the style of the icon for a homogeneous appearance. In addition, the icons are quite large and quite glowing, which means that you can also use them on Android tablets. In addition, there are a number of background sets with high resolution with a package of badges that you can determine as a home screen or lock screen to improve visual attractiveness. 2. Minma Minma is one of the popular icons among users. He has simple round icons with dark background images and flat flat icons in neon color in the middle. So, if you are one who loves clean icons with minimalist designs, Minma will certainly like it. Minma talks about the inventory of the icons and has more than 1150 icons with new ones added from time to time. In addition, application masking is also supported to control unqualified applications icons on your Android device and is prevented by their damage to the appearance of the home screen. The mini also includes about 180 alternative badges for some popular applications that you can use if you do not like the default settings. Application icons can be easily controlled on the dashboard. You can also create icons using an integrated tool. 3. Linex iconLinex Pack icon is a minimalist package with a linear motif and a neon style color palette. Applications icons look sharp and visually, which looks great with abstract wallpapers.
