More information Facebook Apps Communication Call Forwarding Messenger Lite Application is a simpler version of Messenger that is mainly used by people interested just send messages and calling while using some other features. Messenger is one of the most popular messaging platforms, but thanks to its advanced features, it takes up a lot of space and requires more data. That's why Facebook launched this chat application. The Messenger Lite app has many advantages over other platforms - all the main features: it includes only the main features of the Messenger app. You can easily send messages, images, links and adhesives to anyone on messages or messenger lite. Less storage and speed: occupies less storage space, processing power and data as it has fewer options. This Lite application occupies about 90% less storage space than the messenger. It is designed to work perfectly on 2G networks, so it is advantageous to use Messenger Lite in areas with a slow or unstable internet connection. Other vital features: Although it has less functionality that does not lose in other platforms, as you can record a voice message, send stickers, call a friend, start a video chat by updating audio calls, create groups, mute or block others and View a friend's profile along with basic messaging options. Less complicated: it is less complicated than the Facebook Messenger app. This makes operation easier. The user interface of Messenger Lite is composed of only three simple buttons - Home, contacts and profile. I don't miss it: you can also send money, share location and play in this app. So I don't necessarily miss something. For mobile devices that are more elderly and cheap with limited processing powers and limited space, the Messenger Lite app is the ideal choice. Most users do not need those advanced and complicated functionality that arrive with Facebook Messenger. For them, this Facebook chat app is a better choice as it will hardly lose nothing using it.
